The Sights and Sound

of People

Activities play an important role in the lives of a student body. Lapel High School, offering many types of clubs and organizations, does a fine job of fulfilling the cultural and social needs of its students. These activities allow the students to express themselves in an atmosphere of freedom. By learning respect for others in these activities, Lapel students leave better prepared to live in our society. All in all, there is something for every student at Lapel.

and Sounds of Activities

Finders Creepers

l. to r.: Vickie Stewart, Diane Pitcock, Jackie Snyder, Hope Edwards, Marsha Wood, Bernie Faulkner, Larry Castor, Bruce Hersberger, Terry Rich, Colleen Noblitt, Dan Bixler, Tom Whetsel, Diana Heiny, Anton Jensen, and John Mills.

Hercules Nelson and his bosom pal Wilbur Maxwell spend a weekend at Hercules' uncle's house. Hercules knows his uncle has taken a new job, but what he doesn't know until it's too late is that his uncle is a mortician. Hercules and Wilbur intend to spend a luxurious weekend, but end up solving a murder mystery.

Stage and Make-up Crew

The Worm Shall Squirm

Buzzy Higgins and Leroy Dunhagen, two typical teen-age boys, decide they can run the high school better than Leroy's father, the principal. Instead, things backfire on them and in the end, they beg Mr. Dunhagen to take over again.

Stage Crew Worked Hard

Tender Is the Night

May 11th was the date chosen for the 1968 Junior-Senior Prom. The Cole Porter Room of the Sheraton-Lincoln Hotel, with its glittering chandeliers and pale blue lighting, was an impressive setting for the theme "Tender is the Night." The mellow tones of the Starlighters' Band, and vocal solos by Betty Ridgway and Marshal Lawrence carried out the theme in entertainment.

Junior Sponsors: Mr. French and Mrs. Trisler; Senior Sponsors: Mrs. Snyder and Mr. Steinhart.

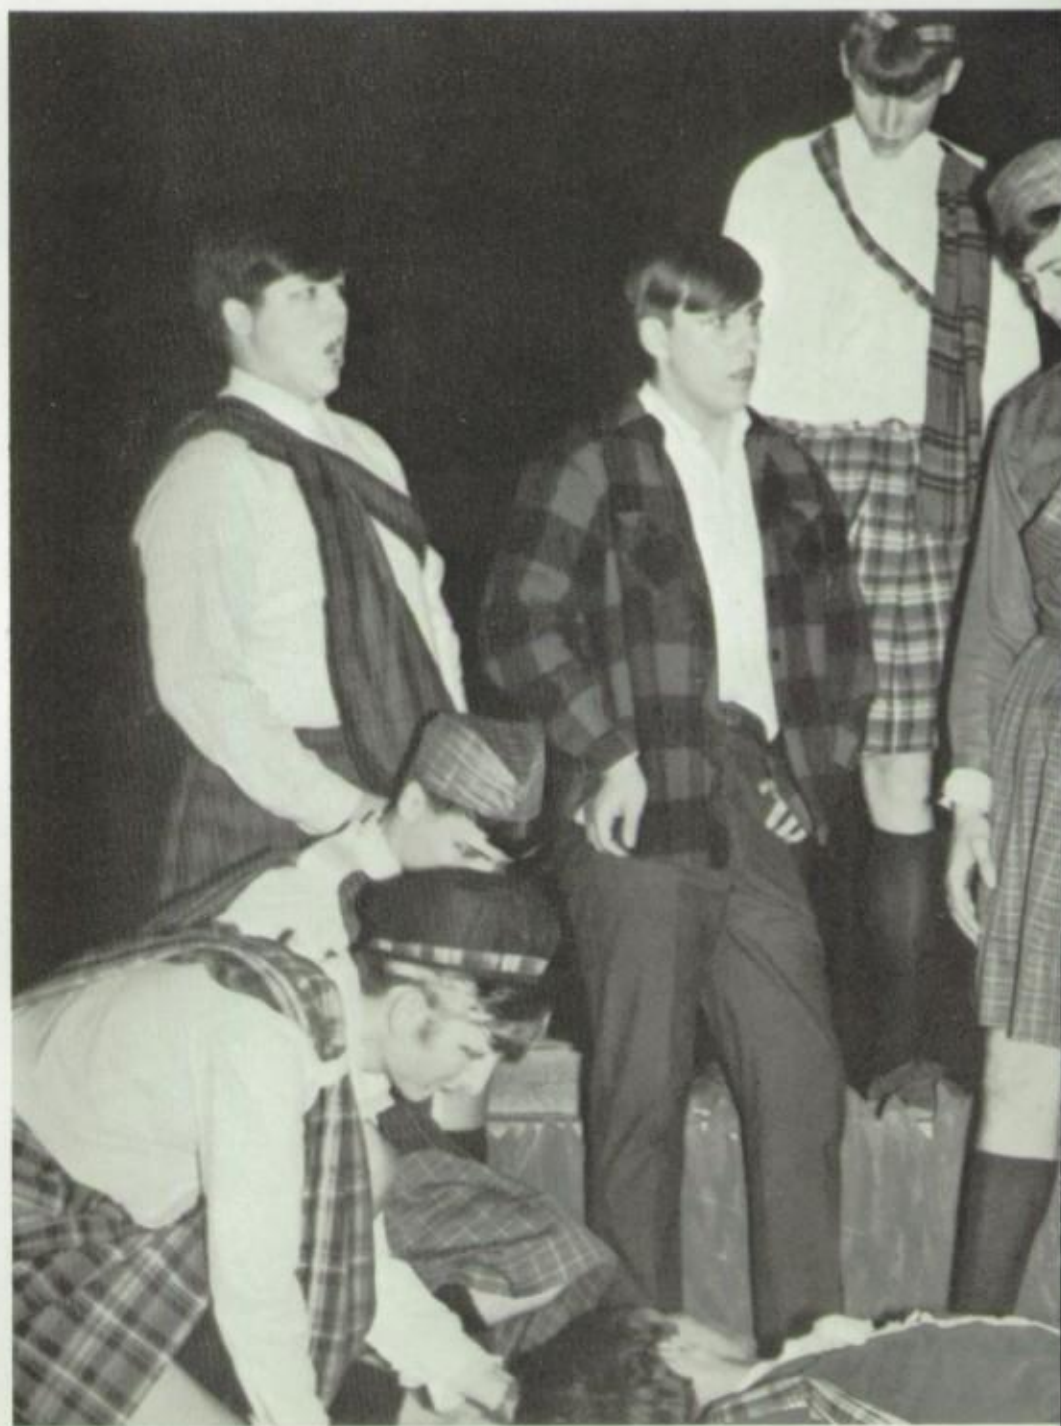

Marshal Lawrence Dedicated Two Songs to the Juniors and Seniors.

Starlighters Provided Excellent Entertainment for the Evening.

Our First Musical Brigadoon

Something new was added to the school calendar last year. For the first time the Lapel Music Department produced and directed a musical. For its first musical extravaganza, the department chose BRIGADOON which was presented March 29 and 30, 1968. Several students were involved in this production, and many hours were spent in practice. This reproduction of BRIGADOON was well received by our community.

The Voice of the Students

The organization in the school which represents and speaks for the student body is the Student Council. The Council is elected by the students to serve as their official representative in all matters of concern to the entire school. Seventh and eighth grades are represented by one boy and one girl from each class. Each high school class is represented by two boys and two girls. The annual events sponsored by the Council are: Halloween Carnival, Homecoming Dance and Queen, hall monitoring, Sadie Hawkins Dance, International Day, and locker checking. Each year the Council selects an appropriate gift for the school.

President Terry Rich crowns Halloween Carnival Queen Durenda Hall and King Rick Butler.

December ninth was the date chosen for the gala festivities of the annual Lapel Homecoming. A hush went through the crowd as the queen candidates appeared in their glittering evening gowns. The appearance of the high school band, under the direction of Mr. James Wampler and the narration of the events by John Mills, a member of the Senior Class, added to the excitement which proceeded the crowning of the 1968-69 Homecoming Queen. A surge of excitement darted through the spectators as Senior Candidate Hope Edwards was crowned 1968-69 Homecoming Queen by Miss Becky Sharpe, 1967-68 Homecoming Queen. Hope's court included two Senior attendants, Cindy Huffman and Colleen Noblitt; Junior attendant, Terry Howell; Sophomore attendant, Sharry Parker; and Freshman attendant, Debbie May. The parade of floats was presented between games. Floats were designed and constructed by the junior high and high school classes and the F.F.A. They were judged by a panel of four judges: Miss Lyons, Miss George, Mr. Adams, and Mr. Howell. The Sophomore and Eighth Grade classes tied for first place honors. Both classes presented a clever interpretation of the theme "sportsmanship." Although the Bulldog Varsity was defeated by the Greenfield Tigers, the 1968-69 Lapel Homecoming will be pleasantly remembered by all who attended.

The Lapel's 4-H clubs are divided into two clubs: the girl's 4-H club, which consists of the Young American, Junior American, and the Live Forever clubs who learn the art of homemaking, and the boy's 4-H club, but girls may also be members.

In the boy's 4-H, the members may raise livestock and take part in farming and conservation. Crafts and electricity holds an enjoyment for those who like to invent.

In the girl's 4-H, the girls learn how to cook, plan meals, and budget spending in foods. In clothing, the girls learn how to sew and use a pattern. 4-H is a good way to spend one's summer and have fun too.

Sunshine Society Radiates Kindness

The Sunshine Society carries on many charitable activities during the school year. This year the girls gathered clothing for the Save-the-Children Fund which went to help the under-privileged children of Appalachia. This year the organization visited Riley Children's Hospital.

The organization sponsored other money-making projects. The money made from these projects went to Riley Foundation Fund. The organization adopted a Korean child.

The formal event for the year was the society's Christmas Dance.

Athletics play a vital part in the life of a student body. Lapel High School does an outstanding job of filling this need. Lapel, a member of the White River Conference, actively engages other area schools in athletic competition. This competition teaches the boys sportsmanship, an important attribute in life.

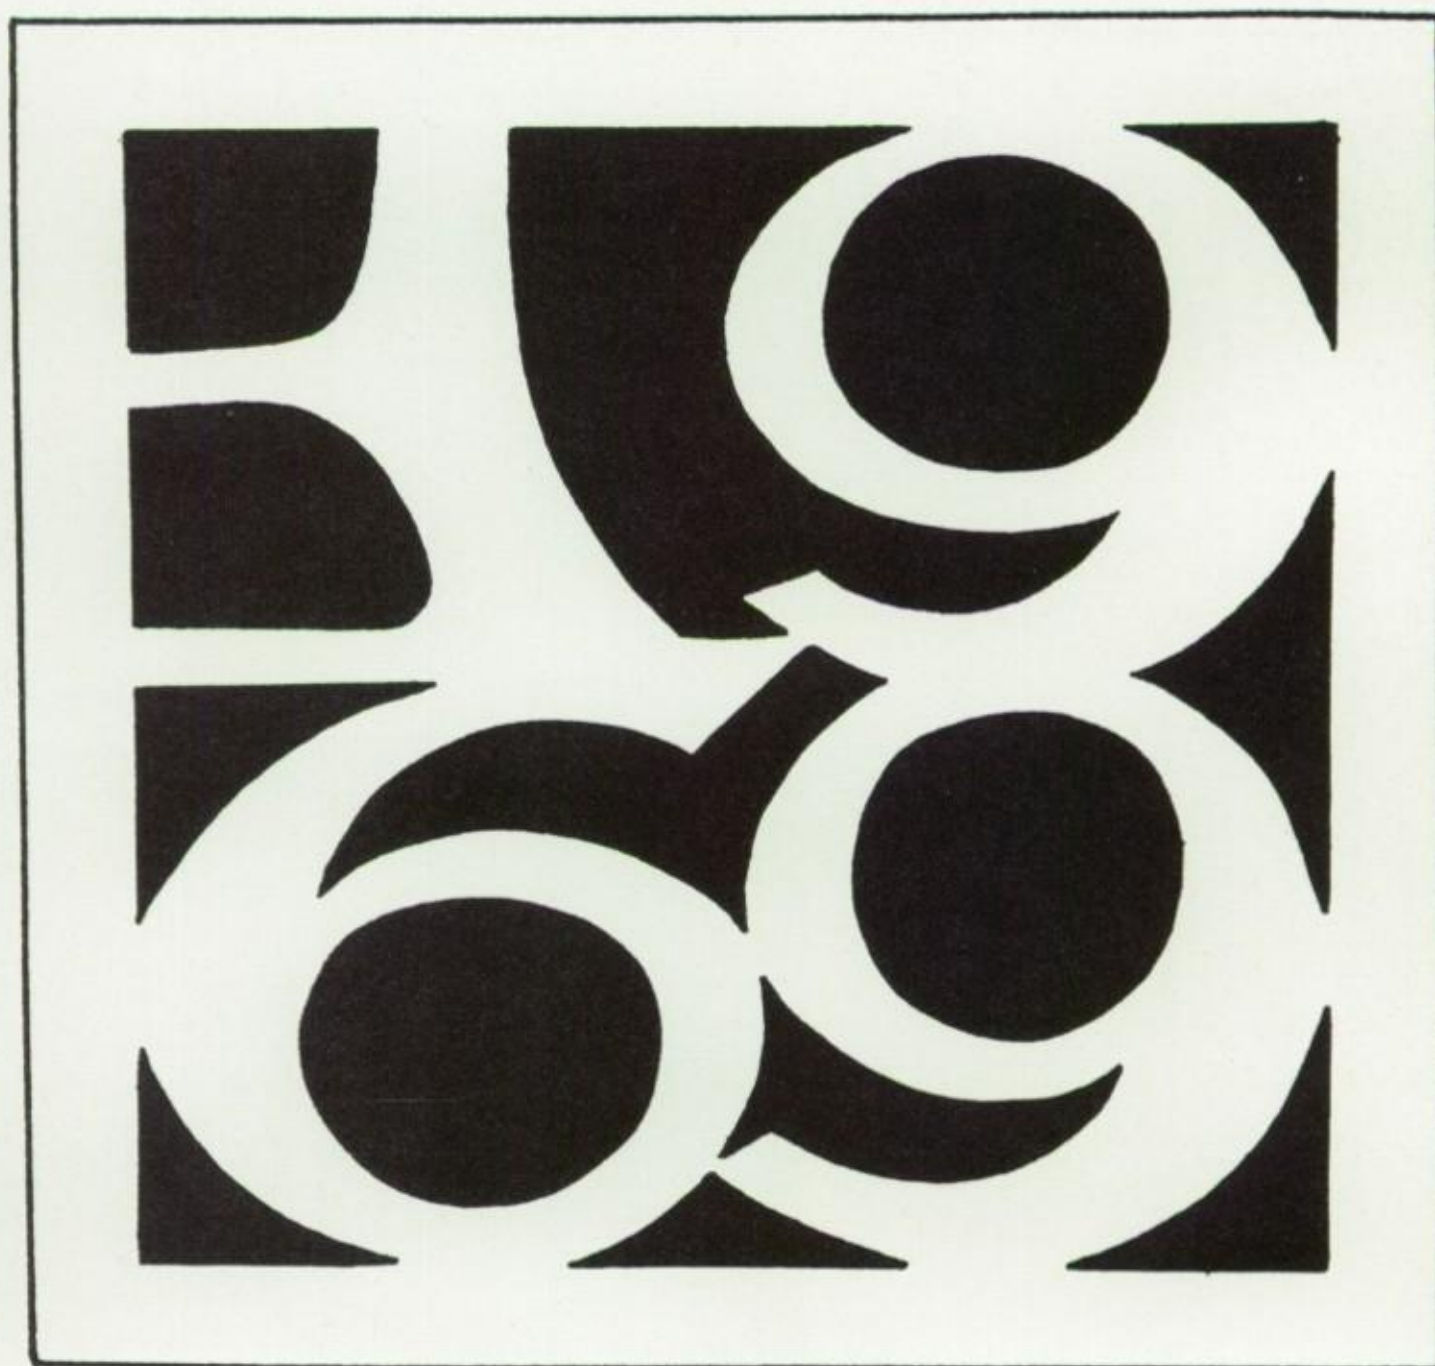

Lapel, as a member of the Indiana High School Athletic Association, must follow strict rules governing its conduct.

Lapel's athletic program is one of which we can be proud.

Layton's key hitting gains him position on All-Conference team.

The 1968 Lapel baseball team came through with a 10--13 record for this season's play. The team placed fifth in the entire White River Conference behind the powerful hitting of Senior Greg Layton, which helped him be elected to the 1968 White River All-Conference team. Under the coaching of Dallas Hunter, the team's outlook for the future is very promising.

The academic curriculum of Lapel High School prepares the students for the future by offering variety of courses. The requirements of college-bound students are fulfilled by advanced courses in math, English, language, social sciences, and civics. For those commercial students, subjects in secretarial studies are offered. The needs of many students are answered by the many different vocational courses. Furthermore, elective classes such as music and art make the graduate of Lapel High School a well-rounded individual.

English Teaches Unity in Communication

English--Training the Lapel students to be fluent in public speaking and debating, adept in creative and technical writing, and comprehensive in the field of literature are the goals of the English Department. Students develop self-confidence and a way to express themselves vocally through practice in debating and public speaking. In composition classes, they are encouraged to use original ideas and organize them into comprehensive essays and themes. The students turn their interest toward the classic works of great English as well as American writers and poets in literature classes. All of these various phases of English are taught to help our students develop a well-rounded curriculum.

Languages Lead to a Better Understanding of the World

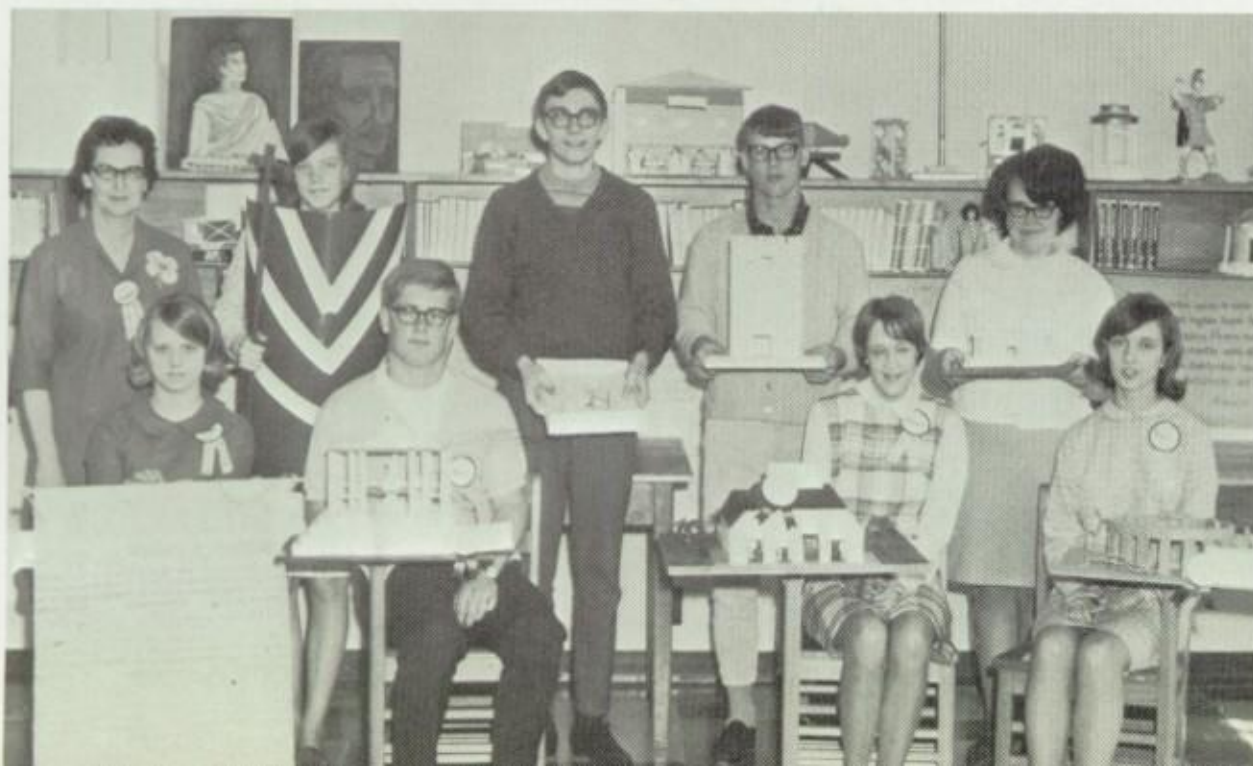

Language--The language department now offers three foreign languages: Spanish, Latin, and French. Although only two years of each language are offered at the present time, plans are being made to offer a more advanced study in the near future.

The Spanish class is using a new textbook this year. A tape recorder is also a great help to the class as they hear the taped voice of a speaker whose native tongue is Spanish. The recorder aids in exercise drills and keeps the Spanish class ever advancing.

Although Latin is not a spoken language, it plays a vital part in the development of a large and useful vocabulary. It aids the student because many English words are direct Latin derivatives. Legal terms, medical terms, and even our most advanced space terms are proof that Latin "lives today".

The French class also has a new textbook this year. To learn correct pronunciation, the French students listen to tapes which supplement the new book. The class also uses French magazines to acquaint them with the modern France of today.

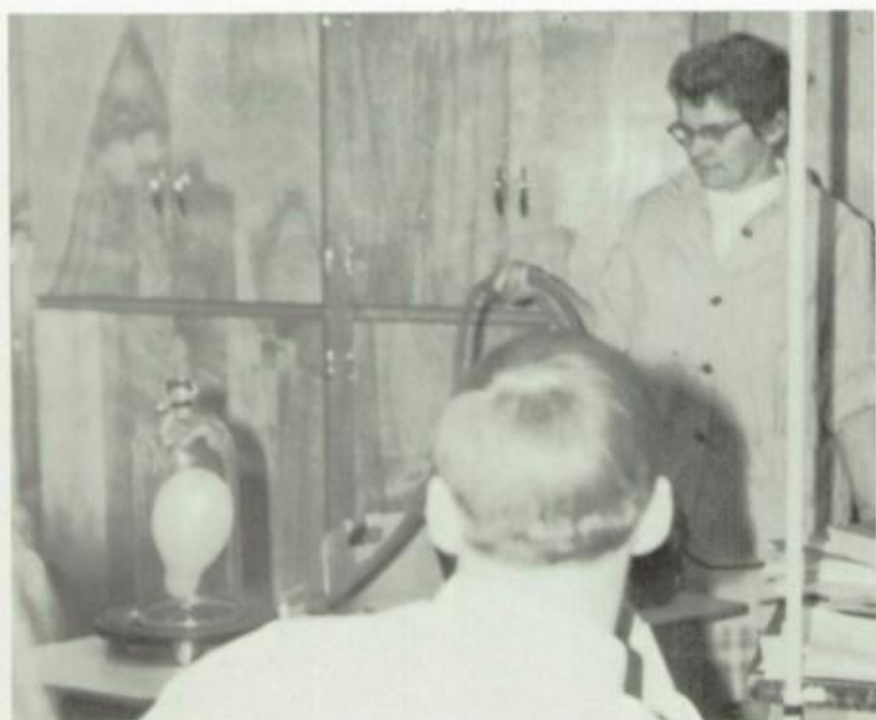

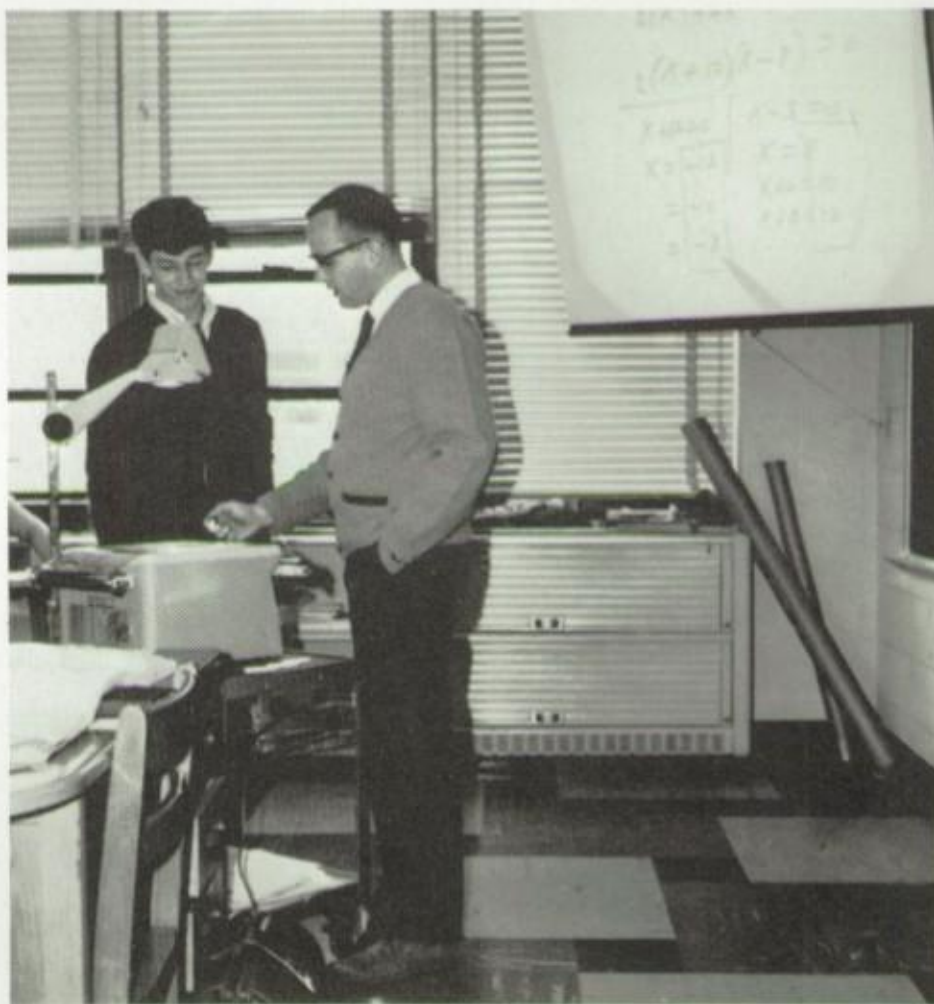

Maths and Sciences

Stimulate Young Minds at L.H.S.

Science--The study of the ever-advancing world of science begins with the study of man and his environment in a Freshman biology course. Biology students dissect animals, collect and catalogue leaves and flowers, and examine living organisms. This study is also a preliminary course to more specialized sciences. Accurate formulas, the proper use of chemicals and correct lab procedures are a few of the skills learned from the Chemistry course.

Math--The Mathematics department prepares many students for advanced work on college level and instructs others in fundamentals and principles useful in everyday life. First and second years Algebra, Geometry, and Senior Advanced Math provide occasion for exploring into this fundamental science.

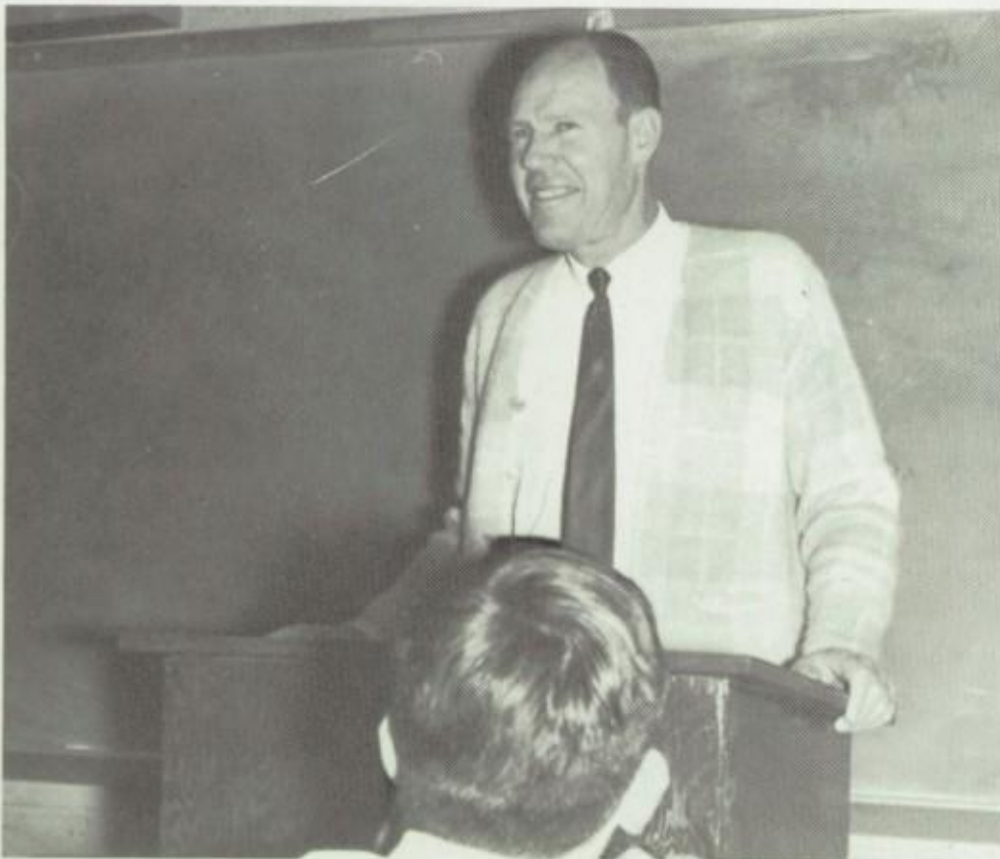

Social Studies Teach Heritage and Understanding

Developing and instilling in its students an interest in the past, present, and future is the task of the Lapel Social Studies Department. The younger students study World History and geography, and the upperclassmen study American History and Government. All are taught a knowledge which is vital in everyone's life.

Senior students now explore the field of sociology, which prepares them for modern society.

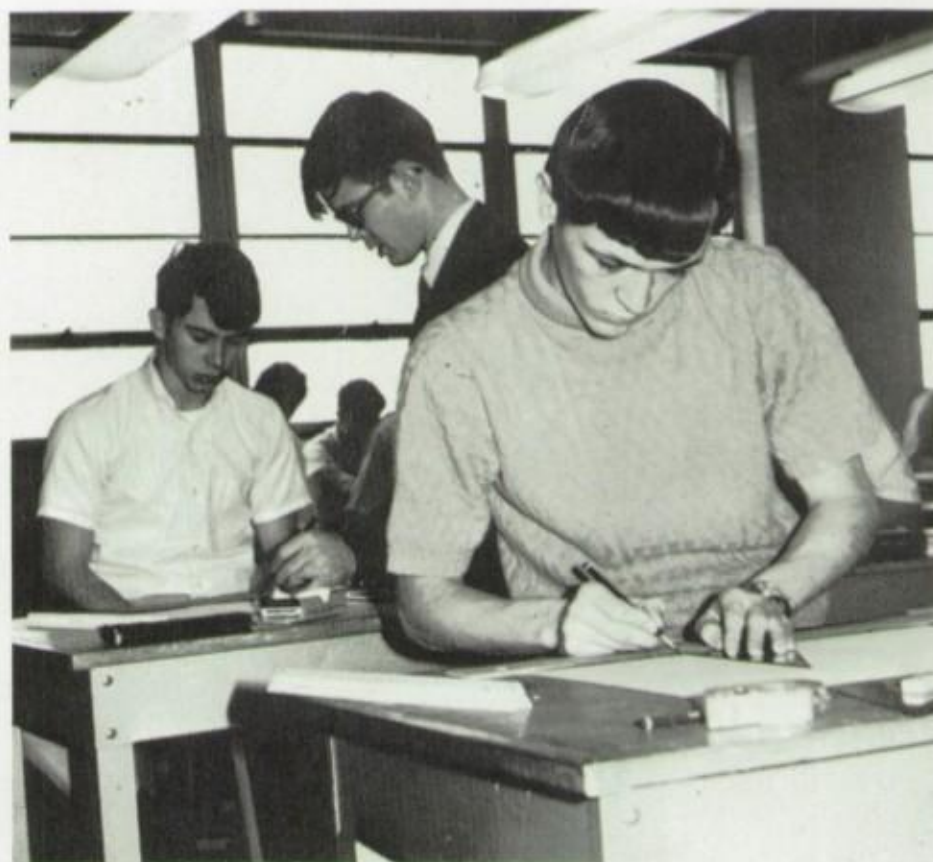

The Creative World of Agriculture and Industrial Arts

Agriculture--The main purpose of the vocational education in agriculture is to prepare the vocational pupil for proficiency in the products. The agriculture courses I and II are taught alternate years to the combined Freshman and Sophomore boys, while courses III and IV are offered alternate years to the Junior and Senior boys.

The F.F.A. plays an important role in the Ag. program because it is through F.F.A. that boys learn judging and compete with other boys in many farming practices.

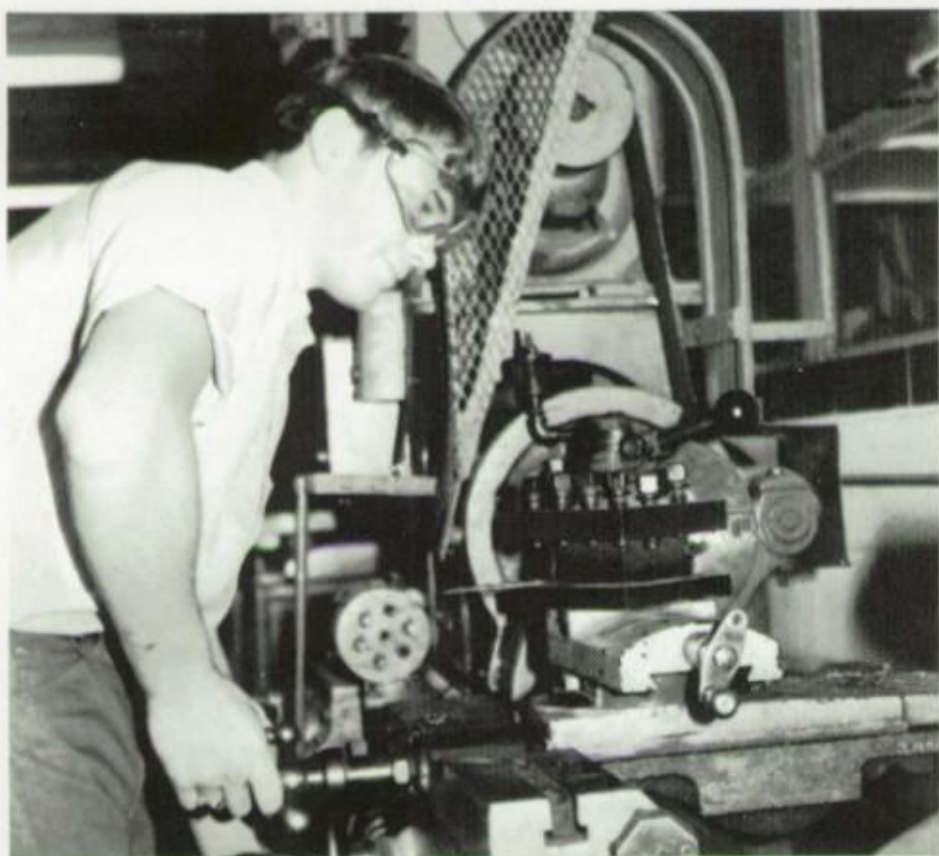

The Agriculture Class participates in such activities as: land, judging, crop judging, livestock judging, F.F.A. contests, poultry judging, and various beneficial field trips.

Industrial Arts--Industrial Arts is a study of the tools, materials, and processes of industry. Lapel High School has a variety of types of education in this field.

One of the important courses is Drafting. This course is offered in all four high school years, the first two being spent learning general drafting practices, the third year learning machine drawing, and the fourth in studying architectural drawing.

Three years of Shop courses are offered at Lapel: Wood Shop 10, Metal Shop 11, and Advance Shop for Seniors. These courses plus others go together to make the fine Industrial Art program at Lapel.

Music and Art Enriches Cultural Life at L.H.S.

Art--Drawing, painting, crafts, and ceramics are offered to the students of Lapel who possess artistic talent. Their ability to express themselves in these classes is very important, as self-expression of emotions is vital to everyone. Art education supplies an opportunity for students to develop their creative potential.

Music--The Music Department tries to develop in the students and interest in and appreciation for all fields of music. In music class, the students learn the rudiments of music. Another phase of this class is to acquaint the students with classic composers and their works. Through participation in Concert Band, Marching Band, Concert Choir, and Girl's Choir, the students not only develop their individual talents, but they also learn the importance of working together and the necessity of cooperation. All of these classes contribute to the advancement of students by cultivating interests and abilities that might otherwise go unnoticed.

Commercial and Home Economics Balance the Curriculum

Home Economics--The Home Economics classes offered at Lapel are a great aid to those girls who are interested in a Home Economics or Nursing career.

Such topics as food preparation, child care and development, family buying, personality development, home nursing, consumer buying, home management, and food preservation provide useful information to any of the girls enrolled in this three year course.

Activities include a trip to the Indianapolis Home Show, Kroger Distribution Center, and preparation of a Christmas banquet given to the faculty.

Commercial--Lapel High School offers many courses for the business minded students. The Secretarial Training course helps the students to review their knowledge of typing and shorthand. This course acquaints the students with new machinery and office skills. A General Business course acquaints the students with the general practices of the business-world. Bookkeeping and accounting help the students in making decisions concerning their careers in Business.

Physical Education to Build Strong Bodies

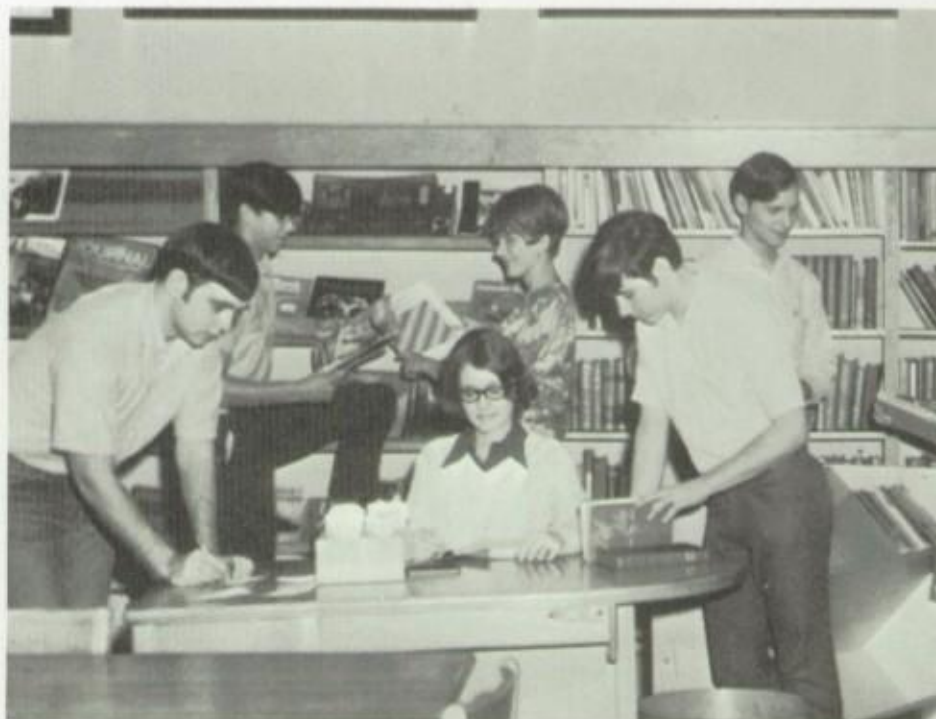

Physical education plays an important role in the daily school curriculum. Because it provides an opportunity for vigorous physical activity, it contributes to the general health and fitness of the students. It assists the individual student in learning to work with his fellow classmates through organized team effort. It encourages good sportsmanship through friendly competition and teaches the students how to lose as well as how to win.

Physical education classes are required for all students in grades 7 through 10. Among the activities of the boys' classes are basketball, softball, gymnastics, track, volleyball, soccer, hiking and calisthenics. The girls' classes take part in various modifications of these activities plus several others including: group games and folk dancing.

Guidance, Audio-Visual, and Library Round Out Curriculum

Library--The library has a wide selection of both fiction and non-fiction books, reference books of various kinds, and current periodicals. These resources are at the disposal of any student or teacher who wishes to use them. The library department works closely with the academic departments to aid the students in supplementing their regular study with outside resources.

Audio-Visual--The Audio-Visual Department, under the direction of Mr. Cox, enhances learning through various means of sight and sound. Mr. Cox, with the aid of student technicians and projectionists, supervises the use of the projectors, orders films and records, maintains large wall charts, and is responsible for the care of any visual-aid equipment. Different film strips, slides, movies, overhead projectors, charts, and records are a great benefit to the school system; for by seeing and hearing the lessons, memorization is easier.

Guidance--Supervised by Mr. Trisler and Mrs. Huntzinger, the guidance office serves all members of the school. Records of students' grades and scores, their progress on achievement tests, and information concerning colleges and job opportunities are kept here. In this way, the Guidance Department proves to be one of the most valuable in the school.

"People who need people are the luckiest people in the world." This is the basic principle that the students of Lapel High School follow. Here lasting friendships are made and basic understandings are developed. The students of Lapel High form common bonds through athletics, organizations, and other activities. Learning cooperation with fellow-man is one of Lapel's major objectives.

Administration

Class of 1969--

I would like to congratulate the class of 1969 for the many outstanding achievements and your officers and sponsors, Mrs. Trisler and Mr. French for their splendid leadership.

This annual is a good example of your ability to achieve and to work together. We have confidence in your knowledge of high morals and good character. We believe with all of these traits you will become outstanding citizens in our community.

I feel that you have developed the foundation that will help you in reaching your highest goals of life.

Thank you for your fine cooperation in making this a very successful school year. May God bless each of you and fill your life with happiness and success.

Your principal,

Elementary Teachers

Mrs. Forrer, first grade

Mrs. Swinford, first grade

Mrs. Kinn, third grade

Mrs. Beanblossom, third grade

Mrs. Neese, second grade

Mrs. Cox, first grade

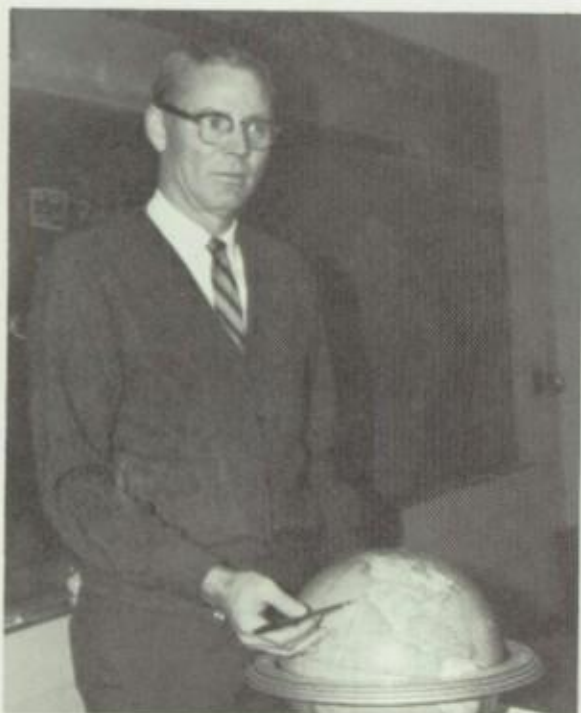

It is the task of the fifteen elementary teachers to provide each Lapel grade school student with the fundamental training about the past, present, and future so that he might have a better understanding about the world in which he lives and prepare him for his future education in high school.

COMPLIMENTS OF THE CLASS OF

1968

50 years ago Indiana was a great place to get a start.

It still is.

We were pretty young ourselves when we joined General Motors. But look at us now. We're the world's largest producer of automotive electrical equipment, making everything from generators for cars to batteries for missiles.

Indiana was a great starting place for us, it'll be a great starting place for you. Because here at Delco-Remy we need people like you. Young people trained and anxious to meet the many challenges of transportation.

If science, engineering or research interests you, dig in now. Study hard. Prepare for a career.

Then look us up. Right after college. Here in Anderson, Indiana.

Commencement

Mark !!!

To a real neat and nice guy who has been a real good friend of mine for all most five long years, we have had a lot of good times together but yet I can remember when we got real mad at each other every once in a while. Just like that time we were at basketball practice and we started throwing chairs at each other, good Luck with the girls and in every thing you do.

I'll always remember you.

Thank you a real great day in my class. Stay in the future.
I'll be in your class.
